EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
- That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.
- That in order to implement the requirements or reductions in appropriations enacted in any budget for fiscal year 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, or 2013, which necessitates the need for the immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the fiscal needs or requirements of the agency.

Reasons for this finding: This section of the Yakima River is adjacent to the Yakama Nation's Prosser Fish Hatchery where over 2 million fall chinook smolts are released annually. Returning adult salmon congregate in this terminal area and attract many anglers during the Yakima River fall salmon season. Limiting fishing to bank angling only promotes an orderly, family-oriented fishery that prevents conflicts between boat and bank anglers competing for the same fishing spots. There is insufficient time to adopt permanent rules.
