

Instructions for Updating Password for EIM Data Entry Tool

Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) has created a user account that you can use to access the ArcGIS.com mobile map for data entry. The username for the login is the email that you used when you signed up to volunteer on the ecological integrity project. We have assigned everyone a default password of WDFW#1A which is case sensitive. Before you start using the system for data entry you will want to reset your password so that it is something that you will easily remember. This can be accomplished at the following website:

<https://geodata.wdfw.wa.gov/ArcGIS/Security/PasswordManager.aspx>

Once you navigate to that webpage, click on the change password link to change your password from the default value of WDFW#1A to a more personalized password.

For more information or help on resetting your password contact lori.salzer@dfw.wa.gov or andrew.duff@dfw.wa.gov.
