COLUMBIA RIVER JOINT STATE NOTICE

---

Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife

May 6, 2014

The States met today and took the following action:

2014 Mainstem Columbia River Spring Chinook Recreational Fisheries
Downstream of Bonneville Dam
Season	Open Friday May 9 through Saturday May 10, 2014 (2 days)
Area:	Tongue Point/Rocky Point line upstream to ROOSTER ROCK (boat and bank) plus bank angling only from ROOSTER ROCK upstream to the Bonneville Dam deadline.  Legal upstream boat boundary defined as: “a line projected from Rooster Rock on the Oregon shore true north to the Washington shore.”
Daily Bag Limit:	Two adult salmonids per day, but only one may be a Chinook. Only adipose fin-clipped fish may be kept. All other permanent regulations apply.
ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The mainstem Columbia River will be open for retention of adipose fin-clipped steelhead and shad ONLY during days and in areas open for retention of adipose fin-clipped spring Chinook.</li><li>• On days when the mainstem Columbia River recreational fishery below Bonneville Dam is open to retention of Chinook, the salmonid daily bag limit in Deep River will be the same as mainstem Columbia River bag limits. On days when the mainstem Columbia River fishery is closed to Chinook retention, the permanent salmonid bag limit regulations for Deep River apply.</li></ul>

NO action was taken on the recreational fishery from Bonneville Dam upstream to the Oregon/Washington border. That fishery will continue as scheduled through Friday May 9.

No Compact hearings are currently scheduled. The next hearing could potentially be as early as Tuesday May 13.
