

Master Hunters That Have Qualified With All Seven Hunting Implements (Shotgun, Rifle, Muzzleloader, Archery, Handgun, Slug-gun, Crossbow)

On July 27, 2011 George Coulbourn of Black Diamond became the first Master Hunter to qualify with all seven different hunting implements.

On September 9, 2011 Sean McDonough of Bothell became the second Master Hunter to qualify with all seven different hunting implements.

On January 6, 2013 Carissa Craghead of Moses Lake became the first female Master Hunter and the third overall to qualify with all seven different hunting implements.

On March 14, 2016 Howard "Shane" Briel of Olympia became the fourth Master Hunter to qualify with all seven different hunting implements.

Master Hunters are only required to qualify with one hunting implement but it is expected that Master Hunters will be proficient with any legal hunting implement prior to using that implement during any Master Hunter hunt. Master Hunters may qualify with additional hunting implements at any time simply by following the scoring and shooting instructions on the MH web at <http://wdfw.wa.gov/hunting/masterhunter/requirements.html> and sending the completed Shooting Proficiency Certification form to WDFW.
