

Attention waterfowl hunters:

The wetland cells in the Winchester Ponds Regulated Access Area in the Desert Unit of the Columbia Basin Wildlife Area (west of Dodson Road and south of I-90 in Grant County), have little to no water. Even with rain, this elevated area will not fill and draw ducks and geese as it usually does by the mid-October season opener. Stay tuned for updates.

