Hi Jane, thanks for the comments. From what I understand this launch is within the city limits of Montesano and I have been in touch with them regarding the shoreline permit. We did a project at this site several years back, and started out with Grays Harbor County until they informed us it was within the jurisdiction of the City of Montesano. I think we were both surprised. If you determine otherwise please let me know. Thanks,

Permit Coordinator,

The project as described will require a Shoreline Exemption for normal maintenance and repair. Expansion of the footprint may require a Shoreline Substantial Development permit.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.
