Background summary:
In January 2013, the Washington Fish and Wildlife Commission (WFWC) adopted Policy C-3620. The policy was amended in 2017 and expires in 2023.

The objectives of the policy “are to promote orderly fisheries (particularly in waters in which the states of Washington and Oregon have concurrent jurisdiction), advance the conservation and recovery of wild salmon and steelhead, and maintain or enhance the economic well-being and stability of the fishing industry in the state.” The policy recognizes uncertainty in implementation, so depends on continued economic and biological analysis, and relies on an adaptive management approach.

The commission requested a comprehensive and thorough review of the five years that the policy has been in place, including stakeholder participation, and provided the staff with a list of 40 questions relevant to the review. This review was formulated into a report and provided at the October 15 Commission meeting.

Staff is providing additional information on total catch, including tributary sport and Select Areas, bycatch, and price per pound. At Commission, request, staff also compiled a list of ideas, provided by stakeholders and Commissioners, for potential changes to the policy.

Staff recommendation:
Finalize the five-year review report. No policy recommendations.
