Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife

APPLICATION INFORMATION DEFINITIONS

It provides guidance in determining and accommodating those persons who have lost one of life's basic activities, such as the ability to dress oneself, feed oneself, see, hear, walk, talk, understand and communicate.

Scope - A telescopic sight, commonly called a scope, is an optical sighting device that is based on a refracting telescope. Telescopic sights are classified in terms of the optical magnification (i.e. "power") and the objective lens diameter. Variable-power telescopic sights in the low magnification range (1-4x, 1-6x or 1-8x), called low-power variable optics (LPVO), may be permitted on muzzleloader or archery devices for this accommodation.

iScope / iSpotter type device - An adaptive device which holds a cell phone, pad, or tablet up to the telescopic sight. This accommodates both the visually impaired and physically impaired applicant.

Optometrist - Not a medical doctor. A healthcare professional licensed to practice optometry, which primarily involves performing eye exams and vision tests, prescribing and dispensing corrective lenses, detecting certain eye anomalies, and prescribing medications for certain eye diseases.

Maximum Medical Improvement (MMI) - Maximum medical improvement occurs when no fundamental or marked change in the impairment condition is expected. Temporary conditions do not meet MMI for this application.

Permanent Inoperable Disability Impairment - not treatable or correctable, all surgeries, all treatments, and all mechanical device use have been exhausted; or not curable because of undue risk to the patient.

Applicants must be 12 months post-op surgery before physician can certify condition as permanent inoperable (MMI). Pain, swelling, or age-related conditions are not a quantifiable impairment for a scope.

No archery sight or muzzleloader scope shall contain or use any device, no matter how powered, to project or transmit any light beam, infrared beam, ultraviolet light beam, radio beam, thermal beam, ultrasonic beam, particle beam or other beam outside the sight or scope onto the target.

NOTE: A person shall not seek diagnosis from a Physician, ARNP, PA, or a Ophthalmologist / Optometrist for purposes of meeting the requirements of this accommodation on more than 2 occasions within a 6-month period.
