Effective date of rule:

Emergency Rules

- Immediately upon filing.
- Later (specify)

Any other findings required by other provisions of law as precondition to adoption or effectiveness of rule?

- Yes No If Yes, explain:

Purpose: This rule is a matter of housekeeping and needed to fix a typo in the WAC text of WAC 220-312-03000M (WSR 20-13-050), adopted June 11, 2020.

The previous filing of WSR 20-13-050 repealed modifications made to Klickitat River salmon seasons in order to return them to permanent rules.

This rule also carries forward emergency rules previously put in place regarding salmon and steelhead seasons for Cispus River, Cowiltz Falls Reservoir, Cowlitz River, Drano Lake, Kalama River, and Wind River.

Citation of rules affected by this order:

- New:
- Repealed: WAC 220-312-03000M
- Amended: WAC 220-312-030
- Suspended:

Statutory authority for adoption: RCW 77.04.012, 77.04.020, 77.12.045 and 77.12.047

Other authority:

EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
- That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.

Reasons for this finding: This rule is necessary to remove a line that was inadvertently left in the text of the previous filing of WSR 20-13-050 that placed competing salmon rules on the Kalama River. The removal of the text will make clear that the daily adult salmon limit has been reduced to one fish as the rule was intended and as it was written when initially adopted in WAC 220-312-03000I (WSR 20-06-017).
