EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
 That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.

Reasons for this finding: This emergency rule is needed to open salmon seasons in the Snake River, effective August 18, 2020.

The 2020 Columbia River forecasted return for Upriver Bright adult Chinook is 233,400 fish, with 18,150 of these fish expected to return to the Snake River. This forecast is large enough to allow for Chinook harvest in the Snake River. The Upriver Bright stock primarily returns to the Hanford Reach and Snake River sections of the Columbia River and the US v. OR Management Agreement reaches only to the confluence of the Snake River. There is no ESA component in this section of the Columbia River, and Washington has its own FMEP with Idaho for the Snake River itself. Because of these factors, management and the opening of this fishery by emergency rule is needed maintain concurrency with Idaho's salmon rules and season openings for the Snake River.

Immediate adoption of this emergency rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare. Observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest. There is insufficient time to adopt permanent rules.
