- ☐ Yes ☒ No If Yes, explain:

Purpose: This rulemaking is to simplify the process of applying for program modifications and accessibility permits in part by specifying the criteria for the most common special use permits (WAC 220-200-200 through WAC 220-200-230). The changes will reduce barriers that may impede participation by persons with disabilities by streamlining the administrative processes associated with these common requests. The changes will also ensure consistent application of permit standards, allowing for increased equity and efficiency of department services to Washington communities.

The new rules at WAC 220-200-240 will also ensure that WDFW may appropriately evaluate requests for program modifications based on unique circumstances not covered by WAC 220-200-200 through WAC 220-200-230

Finally, the adopted rules clarify existing definitions, create new definitions, specify terms and conditions, and provide appropriate appeal rights for decisions to deny, revoke, suspend, or modify special use permits and disability designations.

PERMANENT RULE (Including Expedited Rule Making)

Adopted under notice filed as WSR 23-06-075 on March 1, 2023 (date).

Describe any changes other than editing from proposed to adopted version: There are no differences in the text of the rules as adopted. However, there were minor errors in the CR-102 document, consisting only of rule titles, which the department identifies here for clarity:

1. For WAC 220-200-190 – The proposed title, “Disability designation – Suspension or denial – Appeal hearing”, was listed on the CR-102 rather than the original rule title, which was “Disability designation”. The title of the rule, as adopted, is set forth accurately in the proposed rule language attached to the CR-102, which has been adopted without changes.
2. In WACs 220-200-200, 210, and 220 – the words “special use permit - Eligibility – Terms and conditions” are part of each title, as shown in rule text. The CR-102 document, pages 1 and 2, refers to the rule in an abbreviated format that did not include the full rule title which is correctly set forth in the rule text.
3. WAC 220-200-230 – The proposed title on page one of the CR-102 was different than on page two. The final adopted WAC title now reads “Alternate casting gear special use permit - Eligibility – Terms and conditions.” This title is likewise set forth accurately in the proposed rule language attached to the CR 102, which has been adopted without changes.
4. WAC 220-200-240 – The proposed title in the CR-102, “Special use permits for persons with a permanent disability” was inaccurate. The final adopted title reads “Accessibility special use permit for a person with a disability.” and is likewise set forth accurately in the proposed rule language attached to the CR 102, which has been adopted without changes.

In all four cases above, the text of the proposed rule language attached to the CR-102 (including titles) has not been modified in the rule as adopted by this order.
