EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
- That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.

Reasons for this finding: In-season monitoring data indicate the eulachon run size is large enough to support a second recreational opening, per guidance from the 2023 Washington and Oregon Eulachon Management Plan. The recreational fishery also serves as an important opportunity to collect additional biological data. There is insufficient time to adopt permanent rules.

ORDER NO. 24-32

NEW SECTION

WAC 220-315-03000F Smelt—Areas and Seasons

Notwithstanding the provisions of WAC 220-315-030, the Columbia River and Washington tributaries are closed to fishing for eulachon smelt except as provided below:

Open Dates: Tuesday March 5, 2024, from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 PM (5-hour period).

Open Area: Cowlitz River (bank only) from the HWY 432 Bridge upstream to mouth of the Toutle River

Daily Limit: 10 pounds. Possession limit equal to one daily limit.

Gear: Smelt may be taken with dip net only.

REPEALER

The following section of the Washington Administrative Code is repealed effective 6:01 p.m. March 5, 2024:

WAC 220-315-03000F Smelt—Areas and Seasons

Reasons for this finding: This rule sets a limited Cowlitz River recreational fishery for eulachon smelt. Recent commercial fisheries indicate the eulachon run size is large enough to support a second recreational opening, per management guidance found in the 2023 Washington and Oregon Eulachon Management Plan. The expected return of eulachon to the Columbia River in 2024 is expected to be similar in magnitude to the run in 2023. There is insufficient time to adopt permanent regulations. (24-32, 2/29/2024)
