

Rivers/Streams - Special Rules

The following two sections include rules for the rivers, streams, and beaver ponds that are open for fishing across the state. Beaver ponds within specified stream systems follow the same rules as the streams unless otherwise noted. All unlisted rivers, streams, and beaver ponds are closed.

These waters are presented alphabetically in two sections, as shown on the map below:

- Puget Sound and Coastal rivers, pages 18-46.
- Columbia River Basin, including the Snake River, pages 48-73.

Various fish populations are listed as threatened or endangered under the U.S. Endangered Species Act, so these regulations are designed to protect listed species through all stages of their lives.

WDFW frequently issues emergency rules during the season when fish managers determine immediate action is needed to protect fish stocks or adapt to changing conditions, such as reduced stream flows or high water temperatures.

Anglers should regularly check for emergency rule changes by calling the fishing hotline at 360-902-2500 or by visiting the WDFW website at http://wdfw.wa.gov/about/regulations/emergency_rules.html. For other questions, call the Fish Program customer service desk at 360-902-2700.

COLUMBIA RIVER – where the river coincides with the boundary between Washington and Oregon, the license of either state is valid. Anglers must comply with the laws of the state in which they are fishing. An angler licensed only in Oregon may not fish on the Washington shore or in Washington sloughs or tributaries, except Camas Slough, where the license of either state is valid from a floating device. An angler fishing the Columbia River is restricted to one daily limit even if licensed by both states. SALMON and STEELHEAD anglers may not possess in the field, fish mutilated so that size, species or fin clip cannot be determined, until the angler has reached their automobile or principle means of land transportation and has completed their daily angling. Anglers may fish with either a saltwater, freshwater, or combination license in the waters of the Columbia River between a line from Rocky Point, on the Washington shore, to Tongue Point, on the Oregon shore, and the Buoy 10 line described below. For STURGEON rules in the Columbia River tributaries, see rules for adjoining mainstem waters. For bottomfish and forage fish rules, Marine Area 1 General Rules apply. Salmon and trout handling rules apply (see page 5), except from Feb. 15-June 15 in the mainstem Columbia from the Rocky Point/Tongue Point line upstream to Hwy. 730 OR/WA border the rules apply only when fishing from vessels less than 30 feet in length. Aug. 1-Dec. 31: from Buoy 10 to Hwy. 395 Bridge at Pasco: each angler aboard a vessel may deploy SALMON/STEELHEAD angling gear until the daily SALMON/STEELHEAD limit for all anglers aboard has been achieved. CLOSED - to fishing for Columbia River SMELT (eulachon).
